Corona long forgotten but driver appreciation is not!

It already seems quite a lifetime ago that many of us were forced to adapt to strict regulations about hygiene, testing and forbidden contact at factories and much more. One of the few positives of this time that resonates in our memories was the high amount of praise and appreciation publicly made to you our valuable drivers. We wish to reaffirm our appreciation to your daily dedication on the job.

You are and will remain one of the main representatives of not only your company but that of Bruhn Spedition to our valuable customers! Keep up the good work and keep the wheels rolling!

DEAR DRIVERS,

It is with great pleasure that I introduce the first edition of "The Bruhn Navigator." This publication is more than just a newsletter; it's a renewed commitment to one of our company's most valuable assets – you, our drivers.

Many of you will remember our previous newsletter, "Driver Newsflash," which was a trusted source of information on company updates, safety features, and important industry news. We understand how much you valued this connection, and after hearing your feedback, we've brought it back with a fresh look and a broader focus. "The Bruhn Navigator" will be your go-to source for everything happening in our company, on the road, and in the industry.

We recognize the incredible work you do day in and day out, and we are committed to giving you the tools, information, and support needed to succeed in your role. Our goal is to create a platform where you feel informed, connected, and valued, and where we can continue to promote a culture of safety, efficiency, and open communication.

As we embark on this new journey together, I encourage each of you to engage with this publication. Share your thoughts, raise any concerns, and suggest topics you feel would benefit your colleagues. "The Bruhn Navigator" is not just a company newsletter – it's a conversation between all of us.

Thank you for your dedication and hard work. We look forward to making this a valuable and enriching experience for everyone.

Safe travels

Food & Feed Safety

At Bruhn Spedition, we know how important it is to keep food and feed products safe during transport. That's why we're proud to announce that we've recently earned FSSC 22000 certification, which means we're fully committed to following the highest safety standards in handling food and feed products.

Here is what you can do to help keep things safe:

- Ensure your truck and containers are thoroughly clean before and after loading. A clean environment helps prevent contamination.
- Stick to the clear safety procedures for food and feed transport. This ensures that products stay in top condition throughout the journey.
- Regularly inspect your truck and the load to make sure everything is secure and in good shape before you drive (temperature settings, sealings, etc.) to prevent incidents such as the one in the photo.

OCS (Operation Clean Sweep)

At Bruhn Spedition, we are dedicated to safety and sustainability, which is why we proudly support Operation Clean Sweep (OCS). This global initiative aims to prevent the loss of plastic pellets into the environment, reducing pollution and protecting wildlife.

How can you contribute? By following these three simple steps:

- 01. Thorough inspection of the unit planned for loading.
- 02. Correct closing and sealing of the unit after loading.
- 03. Proper clean-up after every delivery to ensure no pellets are left behind.

Did you know?

We only use full manhole gaskets made of SWR material in all our foodstuff tanks.

If you notice during cleaning that the gasket is worn or damaged – it should be replaced immediately!

Empowerment Your license to stop activity

At Bruhn Spedition, we believe that nothing is so urgent that it has to be executed unsafely. That's why we fully support the concept of the License to Stop Activity. This principle empowers you – our drivers – to stop any task if you believe it's unsafe. Whether it's a concern about the condition of the road, your equipment, or your own well-being, you have the right to halt the activity and ensure safety is the priority. By making safety a non-negotiable part of our operations, we're protecting not only you but also the goods you're transporting and everyone else on the road. If something doesn't feel right, stop and speak up – your safety is always the most important thing.

Introducing the Bruhn Spedition Driver App: Connecting You to the Road

To improve communication and make your job easier, we've launched the Bruhn Spedition Driver App. After months of testing with drivers across Europe, we're excited to roll it out to all of you! The app is free to download from both Google and Apple App stores. Once installed, simply register with your transport order number and access key, and you're ready to go.

We believe the Bruhn Spedition Driver App will save you time and make your daily tasks smoother. We look forward to your cooperation in making it a helpful tool for everyone.
